

The North Devon coastline, where Exmoor meets the Bristol Channel, is truly spectacular, with dramatic jagged cliffs falling to the sea, and wild sweeping panoramas all around as you either hug the coast or head across the northern fringes of the moor.

It's just one of our great range of amazing, scenic adventures by bus.

Ilfracombe

Ilfracombe

Wander round the picturesque harbour with its pastel coloured houses, climb up Lantern Hill to see the 14th-century chapel perched on top, or discover Ilfracombe's stunning beaches and coves, including the famous Tunnels Beaches.

The town has lots of independent shops, nice cafés and eateries, and numerous art and craft galleries to entice you. Try Ilfracombe Chocolate Emporium, truly a chocolate lovers dream.

Watermouth Bay

With outstanding views (see the picture on the left), from this sheltered secluded harbour and the cliffs around it you can see porpoises, dolphins and seals when the tide is right. Opposite the harbour is Watermouth Castle, transformed into a family theme park with a museum of musical instruments and toys and delightful gardens.

Coombe Martin Wildlife & Dinosaur Park

Nestling in a valley with cascading streams and waterfalls, Devon's very own prehistoric park is home to an abundance of exotic and indigenous wildlife plus the very latest in Dinosaur animatronics!

It's home to exotic animals including African lions, baboons, lemurs, sea lions, penguins, meerkats and rare, white Hudson Bay wolves.

There are free daily animal talks and don't forget that T-rex and his friends wake up every hour, on the hour! There's a play area for kids and a café and shop.

Lynton

Lynton

Enjoy this unspoilt town high up on the cliffs with some excellent independent shops and an impressive town hall.

Why not spend a bit of time in Lynton then take the Lynton & Lynmouth Cliff Railway to reach Lynmouth far below.

The cliff railway opened in 1890 and is thought to be the highest and the steepest totally water-powered railway in the world. The views as you glide down are amazing. Learn more about the area in the Lyn and Exmoor Museum.

Lynmouth

Rows of picturesque fishing cottages, cafés and interesting shops cluster around the pretty harbour at the mouth of the West Lyn river.

On the quay at the end of the harbour is the Rhenish Tower, built in the 1860s to store salt water for indoor baths but later fitted with a light to act as a beacon.

The Exmoor Coaster open-top bus road leaves from here to go to Minehead with some amazing cliff-edge and Bristol Channel views

Woody Bay Station LYNTON & BARNSTAPLE RAILWAY

Take a 25-minute ride to Killington Lane and back on a 2-mile round trip in restored heritage carriages behind a narrow-gauge steam locomotive - tickets are valid all day.

Opened in 1898 but closed in 1935, Woody Bay is the start of rebuilding one of the world's most famous and picturesque narrow-gauge railways, the legendary Lynton & Barnstaple Railway.

the Valley of the Rocks

Take the South West Coast Path out of Lynton to reach the Valley of the Rocks - it's less than a mile and the cliff top views are simply out of this world.

Jagged rocks point skywards and feral goats roam freely, and often quite hair-raisingly, on the jagged cliff edges of this spectacular dry river valley. Here are some of England's highest sea cliffs with views that take your breath away.

There's Mother Meldrum's Café, public toilets and a picnic area at the Lynton end of the valley.
