

Valley of the Rocks

ust under a mile from Lynton along the South West Coast path, the Valley of the Rocks is a dramatic dry river valley with towering rock formations and clifftop views that are simply out of this world. Look out for the feral goats that navigate among England's highest sea cliffs with surprising ease!

At the Lynton end of the valley, you'll find Mother Meldrum's Tea Room & Garden, public toilets and a scenic picnic area perfect for a break.

Foreland Point

rom the top of Countisbury FORELAND POIN Hill, a clifftop path leads towards Foreland Point, offering panoramic views across the coast.

This moderate walk takes around 1-1 ½ hours there and back, with some steep sections but the scenery makes the journey well worth it!

Lynmouth

Countisbury Hill

ne of the journey's highlights is the dramatic 2 ½ mile descent from the top of Countisbury Hill, which rises 1,300 feet above sea level. With spectacular views, ahead and out to sea, it's a truly unforgettable part of the route.

Porlock Hill

/ nown as the steepest A-road in the UK, Porlock Hill was once a real test for early motorists. Today, our powerful buses make light(ish) work of its 1 in 4 gradient and sharp hairpin bends - offering a thrilling ride and spectacular views along the way!

Coombe Martin

Woody Bay Station LYNTON & BARNSTAPLE RAILWAY

ake a 25-minute ride to Killington Lane and back on a 2-mile round trip in restored heritage carriages behind a narrow-gauge steam locomotive - tickets are valid all day.

Opened in 1898 but closed in 1935, Woody Bay is the start of rebuilding one of the world's most famous and picturesque narrow-gauge railways, the legendary Lynton & Barnstaple

lynton-rail.co.uk 01598 763487

Ramblers Rest

njoy a visit to Britain's highest coastal road team room, offering a seasonal menu throughout the year. Indulge in homemade cakes, scones, freshly made sandwiches, and much more. It's also a dog-friendly spot, so bring your furry friends along!

Greencombe Gardens

et on wooded slopes with stunning views of the Bristol Channel, Greencombe Gardens is home to a variety of rare and beautiful plants.

This organic garden, which has been carefully cultivated since 1946, uses 25-30 tons of home produced compost and leaf mould each year to nurture its vibrant xplore Ilfracombe's picturesque harbour, walk up Lantern Hill to its 14th-century chapel, and discover stunning beaches and coves - including the llfracombe

distinctive Tunnels Beaches.

The town has plenty of quirky independent shops, local galleries, and cosy cafés to enjoy - and be sure to stop by the Ilfracombe Chocolate Emporium, a must visit for chocolate lovers!

Lynmouth

estled between towering cliffs and the sea, Lynmouth is charming, with spectacular views, riverside walks, and cosy cafés.

At the end of the harbour stands the Rhenish Tower, built in the 1860s to store salt water for indoor baths. It was later fitted with a light to serve as a beacon for ships. At the end of the harbour stands the Rhenish Tower, built in the 1860s to store salt water for indoor baths. It was later fitted with a light to serve as a beacon for ships.

Lynton

erched high above Lynmouth, Lynton offers breathtaking views, quaint streets, and a relaxed village atmosphere. Discover independent shops, art galleries, and welcoming tearooms at your own pace.

Hop on the historic Cliff Railway to connect with Lynmouth below, or set off on a walk through the dramatic Valley of Rocks and beyond. To learn Exmoor Museum.

Porlock

estled between the rolling hills of Exmoor and the Bristol Channel, Porlock is a charming village where the main street winds through quaint cottages, locally-owned shops, galleries, pubs, and delightful tearooms.

Why not indulge in a classic West Country tradition at one of the tearooms? Enjoy a delicious cream tea, all paired with a pot of tea. Simply scrumptious!

flower-lined promenade stretches along the beautiful beach, with a historic harbour and a charming fishing quarter. On the hill behind the town, you'll find a 14th century church and the iconic Church Steps, a popular spot for photos. There's more information on the other side.

Dunster

ust a short walk from the bus stop, Dunster is one of England's best preserved medieval 🔰 villages, steeped in history.

Dunster boasts a dovecote, tithe barn, and a church with the longest rood screen in the country. Stroll through the village to discover charming tea rooms gift shops, and restaurants.

In the heart of the village stands the impressive were once traded by local merchants.

Wildlife & Dinosaur Park

There are free daily animal talks and don't forget that T-rex and his friends wake up every hour, on the hour! There's a play area for kids njoy breathtaking views from the cliffs surrounding this peaceful, tucked away harbour – where, at the right tide, you might spot porpoises, dolphins, and seals.

estling in a valley with cascading streams and waterfalls, Devon's very own prehistoric park is N home to an abundance of exotic and indigenous wildlife plus the very latest in dinosaur animatronics!

It's home to exotic animals including African lions, baboons, lemurs, sea lions, penguins, meerkats and rare Hudson Bay wolves.

and a café and shop.

cmwdp.co.uk 01271 882486

the best way to see the spectacular Exmoor coast

Want to explore more great scenic bus rides?

We've got plenty more amazing bus routes across Somerset and beyond.

Visit firstbus.co.uk to see where you could go next.

Why not add a vintage train ride to your adventure. Explore Exmoor links up with the West Somerset Railway at Minehead and the Lynton & Barnstaple

> Railway near Parracombe. Find out more and check > > west-somerset-railway.co.uk lyntonrail.co.uk operating days and times.

any one-way journey

Full fare details can be found online or on the First Bus app.

Pay your driver when you

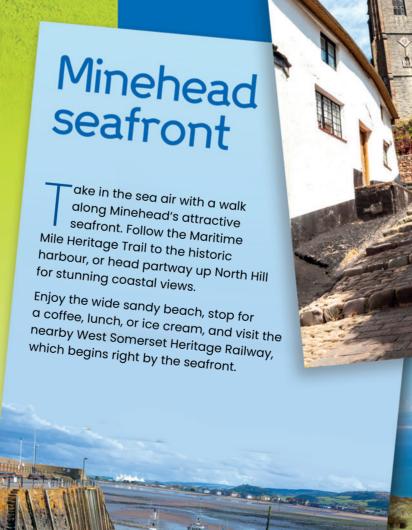

Dunster Castle & Watermill

et on a wooded hill, Dunster Castle offers a fascinating glimpse into 1,000 years of history. Originally a Norman stronghold, it later became a grand country home for the Luttrell family, who lived here for over 600 years

Explore the medieval gatehouse, ruined tower, and elegant interiors, then stroll through the terraced Mediterranean and subtropical gardens. Below, you'll find a riverside garden with a natural play area and working watermill, also open to visitors.

There's a cafe, gift shop, and plenty to discover just a 15-20-minute walk from the bus stop.

Exmoor ponies

xmoor ponies are a familiar sight across the moor, roaming freely in herds - though they aren't truly wild, as each one is owned and cared for. Around 20 herds live on the moor, but it's important not to touch or feed them.

xmoor is a wild and beautiful place, full of ancient woods, rolling hills, and old legends.

Our journey begins at the Somerset coast, climbing high onto Exmoor with sweeping views across the Bristol Channel to South Wales, before plunging down the steep descent into the charming harbour village of

In the height of summer, the journey continues through even more breathtaking scenery, passing through Combe Martin, Watermouth Bay, and Ilfracombe.

There's no better way to experience this spectacular landscape than aboard our Explore Exmoor bus, especially with its thrilling ride up and down the famously winding, notoriously steep Porlock Hill.

closed top bus

Minehead - Porlock - Lynmouth 25 May - 23 July

open top bus

Blue Anchor - Minehead - Porlock - Lynmouth - Ilfracombe

24 July - 31 August

scan for times

firstbus.co.uk/somerset

