

Prices are calculated over a calendar week - Monday to Sunday.

You'll never be charged more than these prices, as long as you always tap an and tap off on every journey.

If you're only making a few short journeys, it may be less.

We believe travelling in and around Southampton by City Red bus should be the best value for everyone, whether you use the bus on a daily basis, might make more than one journey in the day or maybe travel a few days a week.

Use your contactless device - bank card, smartphone or smartwatch - to pay for travel when you board and you'll never pay more than the daily or weekly cap, however many trips you make as long as you always remember to tap off as you leave the bus.

And if you only make one short hop, you'll only be charged for that.

This means you can be confident that if your plans change and you have to make more journeys, you'll never be paying more than you should.

always tap on

Tap your device on the reader by the driver when you get on. As soon as it beeps and shows a green light (almost instantly) you can move on and find a seat.

There's no ticket to take but you can track what you've been charged at any time and get more information at:

always
tap off

When you go to get off, remember to always tap off on the reader on the pole at the left just before you reach the exit. This will make sure you get the best price.

It really is that simple.

Please note that if you forget to tap off you could end up paying more.
